Article 28 - Assurance measures - bail and a personal guarantee - to secure a short leave from a prison facility

1. Bail is a monetary sum. Based on a written undertaking regarding the proper behaviour and timely appearance of the convicted person at the prison facility, the defence lawyer/legal representative, member of the convicted person's family or other person on his/her behalf shall deposit the monetary sum to the account of the prison facility as an assurance measure to secure a short leave of the convicted person from the prison facility. A deed shall be drawn up on the receipt of bail, one copy of which shall be handed over to the guarantor.

2. The chairperson of the Department shall take into account the character of the guarantor and his/her financial condition.

3. If the petition is granted by the chairperson of the Department, bail shall be deposited to the account of the prison facility within three days after the petition is granted.

[2. The Director of the Department shall take into account the character of the guarantor and his/her financial condition.]

3. If a petition for a short leave of the prison facility is granted by the Director of the Department, bail shall be deposited to the account of the prison facility within three days after the petition is granted. (shall enter into force from 1 July 2015)]

4. Before depositing the bail, the guarantor shall be warned about the consequences of non-fulfilment of the conditions defined by the written undertaking.

5. If a convicted person, being on a short leave from a prison facility, fails to return to the prison facility without a valid reason after a short leave expires or has committed a new crime, the measures provided for by the legislation of Georgia shall be applied to him/her, and the amount of bail shall be transferred to the State Budget of Georgia.

6. If a convicted person meets the time limits for a short leave from the prison facility, fulfils undertaken obligations precisely and in good faith, the amount of bail shall be returned to the guarantor within two weeks.

7. In the case of a personal guarantee, the defence lawyer/legal representative, close relative of the convicted person or other person on his/her behalf, shall assume a written obligation to ensure the proper behaviour and timely appearance of the convicted person at the prison facility.

8. The chairperson of the Department defines the number of guarantors. In exceptional cases, only one, exceptionally reliable person may act as a guarantor.

[8. The Director of the Department defines the number of guarantors. In exceptional cases, only one, exceptionally reliable person may act as a guarantor. (shall enter into force from 1 July 2015)]

9. The personal guarantee may be used only based on the petition or consent of the guarantors, and based on the consent of the convicted person. Each guarantor shall make a signed statement on the guarantee, which is attached to the personal file of the convicted person.

10. If a guarantor fails to fulfil the undertaken obligation, he/she may not justify such failure by his/her inability to control the behaviour of the convicted person, except when he/she proves the existence of force majeure.

11. If a convicted person commits an action for the prevention of which the guarantee was applied, on each guarantor shall be imposed a fine in the amount of not less than GEL 10 000, as established by the legislation of Georgia.

Article 42 - Decision of the Council on the release on parole

1. If a convicted person has actually served the term established by law for the release on parole, the administration shall immediately file a relevant application with the Council and notify the convicted person about it. If an additional time is required to obtain and process the necessary information, the administration may file this application within seven days.

2. A convicted person, his/her defence lawyer/legal representative and close relatives may submit additional information to the Council.

3. The Council reviews a case by oral hearing and/or without oral hearing, in compliance with administrative procedures. The decision to deny a parole, or to admit the case for oral hearing or to release a convicted person on parole is taken by the Council without oral hearing, according to the assessment criteria determined by the Minister. The decision shall include the main circumstances of the case and details of the convicted person.

4. When reviewing an application, the Council takes into account the conduct of the convicted person during his/her imprisonment, the criminal acts committed by him/her in the past, his/her character family status, the nature of the crime committed and other circumstances that may influence the decision of the Council.

5. The Council conducts an oral hearing if it considers that it is necessary to obtain additional information from the convicted person to decide his/her release on parole. By oral hearing, the Council decides to deny or grant parole to the convicted person.

6. The decision of the Council denying parole to the convicted person may be administratively appealed to a court.

7. If the Council decides to deny parole to the convicted person, an application with the same request may be considered only after six months, except when the outstanding sentence does not exceed six months and/or if there are special circumstances. The issue of the release on parole of convicted persons of minor age shall be considered every three months, and the issue of the release on parole of other convicted persons shall be considered every six months.

1. The Standing Commission of the Ministry exercises general supervision over the Council's activities and reviews and decides other issues under this Code.

2. The standing Commission of the Ministry consists of 7 members. The Commission is composed of:

a) members appointed by way of rotation – one representative of the parliamentary majority, one representative of the Members of Parliament outside the majority, one representative of the High Council of Justice of Georgia, one representative of a higher education/general educational institution and one representative of the non-governmental sector;

b) two employees of the system of the Ministry.

3. The Coordination Council of the Ministry recommends for approval to the Minister each nominee from the non-governmental sector and from a higher education/general education institution. The rights and duties, and activities of the Coordination Council of the Ministry are defined by an order of the Ministry.

4. The representative of the non-governmental sector, the representative of higher education/ general education institution and the employees of the system of the Ministry are approved by the Minister as members of the Standing Commission of the Ministry. The representative of the High Council of Justice of Georgia is appointed to the Commission by the Secretary of the High Council of Justice of Georgia.

5. The representative of the parliamentary majority, the representative of the Members of Parliament outside the majority, the representative of the High Council of Justice of Georgia and the candidacies nominated to the Standing Commission of the Ministry by the Coordination Council of the Ministry shall be subject to rotation every year.

6. The Commission shall elect the chairperson of the Standing Commission of the Ministry from among the members of the Commission (except for the members appointed by way of rotation) by open ballot, by a majority of votes of the members present.

7. The standing Commission of the Ministry shall periodically, but not less than once in three months, review the reports of the Council on the decisions taken in connection with granting parole and commutation of outstanding sentences. The Standing Commission of the Ministry may, on its own initiative, request any case considered by the Council where a convicted person's request for the release on parole or for commutation of the outstanding sentence has been rejected, and may take relevant decision on the case. The decision of the Standing Commission of the Ministry may be administratively appealed to a court only once.

8. The powers and rules operation of the Standing Commission of Ministry are defined by the Statute of the Commission, which is approved by the Minister.

1. In the case of a reasonable belief, based on security and other lawful interests of accused/convicted or other persons, to prevent suicide, self-injury, violence against accused/convicted or other persons, damage to property, and to avert other crimes and offences, the administration may conduct surveillance and control through visual and/or electronic means. Electronic surveillance is conducted with audio and video devices and/or other technical means of control. The administration may, through electronic means, record the process of surveillance and control, and the information received as a result of this process.

2. The administration shall warn the accused/convicted person about the conduct of surveillance and/or of audio and video recording through electronic means, except as provided for by the legislation of Georgia.

3. In the case specified in paragraph 2 of this article, a report is prepared indicating which electronic means and for what purpose it is used to conduct surveillance of an accused/convicted person. The report shall be signed by at least two representatives of the administration and the accused/convicted person who is under electronic surveillance. If an accused/convicted person refuses to sign a report, relevant record shall be made in the report.

4. The decision to conduct surveillance and control through visual and/or electronic means is made if other means are inefficient. The decision shall be substantiated and proportionate to the purpose.

5. No visual and/or electronic surveillance shall be conducted in the rooms allocated for long visits, except when the surveillance is conducted as determined by the legislation of Georgia and in cases provided for by law.

6. The administration may conduct visual surveillance of the meeting of an accused/convicted person with persons defined in Article 60(1) of this Code and in the order of the Minister, using remote surveillance and recording equipment, but without listening.

7. If electronic surveillance is conducted in the territory of a detention/prison facility and its adjacent territory, the administration shall place an appropriate warning sign in a prominent place, except as provided for by the legislation of Georgia.

Article 55 - Investigation of crimes committed in detention/prison facilities and operational and search activities

1. Crimes committed in a detention/prison facility are investigated as established by the Criminal Procedure Code of Georgia.

2. According to the legislation of Georgia, operational and search measures are implemented in a detention/prison facility, to ensure personal security of the employees of the facility and of other persons, as well as of accused/convicted persons; to identify crimes committed in the facility; to prevent the violation of the established procedure for serving a sentence; to prevent crime at the stage of its preparation; to search, under the established procedure, for the accused/convicted persons that escaped from the facility; to cooperate with other authorised bodies within their powers.

3. A person found guilty of a crime committed in a prison facility shall be transferred to a detention facility.

[Article 55 – Conduct of operational and search measures in penitentiary institutions]

1. Operational and search measures may be taken in a penitentiary institution within the scope of information and analytical support of the management of penitentiary institutions and/or within the scope of operational and search support of a criminal investigation.

2. Information and analytical support of the management of penitentiary institutions means collection, processing and analysis of information and data by the respective security service of the department and/or of a penitentiary institution in accordance with the legislation of Georgia, within the scope of protection of safety in a penitentiary institution and for one of the following purposes:

a) detection and prevention of crimes and other offences in a penitentiary institution;

b) identification and assessment of criminal connections and influences;

c) identification and assessment of other types of internal risks and threats that may pose immediate danger to the safety of employees of the system of the Ministry, the safety of accused/convicted persons or of other persons, or to the legal and/or security regime in a penitentiary institution and thereby disturb normal functioning of the penitentiary institution.

3. Within the scope of information and analytical support of the management of penitentiary institutions the respective security service of the department and/or of a penitentiary institution may obtain information and data in a penitentiary institution from open and secret sources as a result of conducting operational and search measures provided for in Article 7(2)(a,b,e,f,g and j) of the Law of Georgia on Operational and Search Activities; the operational and search measure specified in sub-paragraph (g) of the same paragraph must be carried out as prescribed by this Code.

4. The information and analytical support of the management of penitentiary institutions shall commence on the basis of an order of the Director of the Department. This order shall be issued in exceptional cases, on written petition of the head of the security service of the Department and/or the director of the penitentiary institution. The petition shall justify the necessity, purpose and scope for the conduct of the relevant activity.

5. If the elements of an alleged crime are detected in the information and data obtained by the respective security service of the department and/or of a penitentiary institution for the purposes specified in paragraph 2 of this article, the security service of the department shall, in the manner established by the legislation of Georgia, notify the relevant investigation division, and if the elements of an official misconduct are detected, to the General Inspection Department of the Ministry.

6. The security service of the department and the security service of a penitentiary institution shall, in the manner prescribed by the legislation of Georgia, provide investigation with operational and operational-technical support within the limits of the penitentiary institution.

7. Operational and search measures conducted in a penitentiary institution shall be subject to prosecutorial supervision and judicial control in accordance with the legislation of Georgia.

8. The procedure for processing, storing, reviewing and destroying the information and data obtained for the purposes specified in paragraph 2 of this article shall be determined by an order of the Minister.

9. The procedure for exchanging information between the Ministry and the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Georgia within the scope of operational and search activities shall be determined by a joint order of the Minister and the Minister of Internal Affairs of Georgia. (shall enter into force from 1 July 2015)

- e) use an interpreter's services free of charge if he/she does not understand the language of the proceedings.

Law of Georgia No 2241 of 16 April 2014 - website, 2.5.2014

Article 84 - Disciplinary proceedings

1. Cases or disciplinary violation are reviewed without oral hearing by the director of the facility or a person authorised by him/her. If the director of the facility or a person authorised by him/her considers that additional information is required to decide the matter, he/she may review the case through an oral hearing.

1¹. During the review of a disciplinary violation case without an oral hearing, an accused/convicted person may be represented by a lawyer.

2. The accused/convicted person shall be informed of his/her right to give an explanation, provide evidence, file a motion, speak in their native language, use an interpreter's services, and to appeal the order imposing a disciplinary measure.

3. An accused/convicted person shall give an explanation of the disciplinary violation committed by him/her, and in the case of his/her refusal to do so, the administration shall prepare a relevant report.

4. A person who has committed a disciplinary violation, a witness or a victim may submit an explanation and/or comments in writing, which must be attached to the order on the application of a disciplinary measure.

5. During the oral hearing, an accused/convicted person shall have the right to sit and make notes.

6. In applying a disciplinary measure to an accused/convicted person, his/her person and conduct, and the circumstances in which the disciplinary violation has been committed and his/her explanation about the violation shall be taken into account. After the review of the case, the director or a person authorised by him/her shall take a relevant decision based on the assessment of the evidence.

7. An accused/convicted person may be represented by a lawyer during the review of the case by an oral hearing, which is conducted regarding the imposition of the disciplinary measures provided in Article 82(1)(f) and (g) of this Code. Prior to the oral hearing, an accused/convicted person shall be informed of the right to invite a private lawyer, and if the relevant consents are given, this right shall be exercised within three hours after informing the accused/convicted person. If the lawyer fails to appear within the specified period of time, a public lawyer shall be appointed for the accused/convicted person with his/her consent. If an accused/convicted person refuses to appear, this fact shall be recorded in writing. If this is not the case, a report shall be prepared, which must be signed by the accused/convicted person.

8. An oral session regarding the imposition of a disciplinary measure may continue without an oral hearing and a decision may be delivered if the accused/convicted person breaches order, does not appear at the hearing or otherwise interferes with the hearing.

Article 85 - Order on the application of a disciplinary measure

1. The right to issue an order on the application of a disciplinary measure is vested with the director of the facility or a person authorised by him/her. The administrative act issued by the director of a facility granting the authority to another person may not be appealed separately.

2. A disciplinary measure shall be imposed not later than 10 days after the violation is detected.

3. An order applying a disciplinary measure shall contain:

- a) the surname and first name of the authorised official;
- b) the date, time and place of preparation of the order;
- c) the registration number;
- d) information on the offender (surname, first name, date of birth, etc.);
- e) the place and time of the violation, the essence of the violation, and the time of detecting the violation. If the time of committing the violation cannot be determined, the time of detection of the violation shall be regarded as the time of committing the violation;
- f) data on the witness, or on the victim, if any;
- g) reference to other evidence, if any, that is required to decide the case.

4. Use of an interpreter's services shall be mentioned in an order on the application of a disciplinary measure.

5. An order on the application of a disciplinary measure shall be lawful, substantiated and fair and shall serve the legitimate purpose. An imposed disciplinary sanction shall be proportionate to the gravity and nature of the committed violation. An order shall be in written form and provide for an appeal procedure.

6. One copy of an order on the application of a disciplinary measure shall be delivered to the accused/convicted person or to his/her lawyer immediately after its issuance.

Article 86 - Appealing disciplinary measures

1. An accused/convicted person may, on a one-time basis, appeal to a court the disciplinary measure imposed on him/her within 10 working days after the order applying a disciplinary measure is issued. The appeal process shall not suspend the enforcement of the order applying a disciplinary measure.

2. The transfer of an accused/convicted person to a medical facility due to a deteriorated health condition or other special circumstances that impede the enforcement of a disciplinary measure shall cause the postponement of the enforcement of the disciplinary measure until the accused/convicted person returns to the facility.

Article 87 - Guarantees for an accused/convicted person during the application of disciplinary measures

1. Two or more disciplinary measures may not be imposed for one disciplinary violation.

2. Disciplinary measures shall not humiliate an accused/convicted person and degrade his/her honour and dignity.

3. A disciplinary measure may not be imposed if one year has passed after the commission of a disciplinary violation.

4. A person shall be considered as not having been subjected to a disciplinary measure if he/she does not commit a disciplinary violation again within six months after serving the disciplinary measure. If an accused/convicted person is subjected to the measures provided in Article 82(1)(f) and (g), he/she shall be considered as not having been subjected to a disciplinary measure if he/she does not commit a disciplinary violation again within one year after serving the disciplinary measure.

5. The director of a facility or a person authorised by him/her may lift a disciplinary measure ahead of time if the purpose of the measure has been achieved.

Article 89 - Prevention of disciplinary violations

1. The administration shall take relevant measures to prevent and avoid disciplinary violations.

2. The internal regulations of a facility, a detailed list of disciplinary violations and respective measures shall be accessible to all accused/convicted persons.

Chapter XV - Administrative Detention of Convicted Persons

Article 90 - Imposition of administrative detention

1. If a convicted person repeatedly commits a disciplinary violation provided under this Code during the period of application of a disciplinary measure, he/she may be subjected to administrative detention for not more than 60 days and nights. This procedure does not apply to paragraph 1¹ of this article.

1¹. If a convicted person placed in a special risk prison facility commits a disciplinary violation defined in Article 80(c,i¹) of this Code, he may be subjected to administrative detention for not more than 90 days and nights. This period shall not be counted towards the overall term of administrative detention provided under paragraph 2 of this article.

[1¹. If a convicted person placed in a special risk prison facility commits a disciplinary violation defined in Article 80(c,d,k) of this Code, he may be subjected to administrative detention for not more than 90 days and nights. This period shall not be counted towards the overall term of administrative detention provided under paragraph 2 of this article. (shall enter into force from 1 July 2015)]

2. The total period of administrative detentions imposed during one year shall not exceed 90 days and nights.

3. Pregnant women and convicted persons of minor age shall not be subjected to administrative detention.

4. The authority to issue an order imposing administrative detention is vested with the director of a facility or a person authorised by him/her. The authority under this paragraph shall be delegated based on an individual administrative act.

5. An order on the imposition of administrative detention shall contain:

a) the surname and first name of the authorised official;

b) the date, time and place of preparing the order;

c) the registration number;

d) reference to the normative act and individual administrative act, on the basis of which the authorised official exercises this authority;

e) data on the offender (surname, first name, date of birth, etc.);

f) the place, time (year, month, date, hour, minutes) of the violation and the essence of the violation. If the time of committing the violation cannot be determined, the time of detecting the violation shall be deemed as the time of committing the violation;

g) data on witnesses, or on victims, if any;

h) reference to other evidence, if any, that is required to decide the case;

i) the motion on the imposition of administrative detention, without indicating the term of the sanction.

6. When issuing an order imposing administrative detention, the convicted person shall be informed of his/her right to read the order, give explanations, provide evidence, file motions, speak in their native language, use an interpreter's and/or lawyer's (defence lawyer's) services and to appeal the order imposing administrative detention. The order imposing administrative detention shall indicate that the accused person has been informed of his/her rights.

7. Use of an interpreter's and/or lawyer's (defence lawyer's) services shall be indicated in an order on the imposition of administrative detention.

8. The offender, witness or the victim may submit written explanations and/or comments, which must be attached to the order on the imposition of administrative detention.

9. Immediately upon its issuance, one copy of an order on the imposition of administrative detention shall be given to the convicted person.

10. An order imposing administrative detention shall be submitted to the competent court within 24 hours, according to the location of the facility. The burden of proof shall rest with the official issuing the order.

11. The judge shall review an order imposing administrative detention alone in an open court session, within 48 hours after the order is submitted. A reasoned decision shall be immediately delivered after the review of the case. The delivery of a reasoned decision may not be postponed.

12. The court shall review a case as established by the Administrative Procedure Code of Georgia. Article 26² of the Administrative Procedure Code of Georgia shall not be applicable during the review of the case.

13. The case shall be reviewed in the court based on principles of equality of arms and of adversarial process. A convicted person shall enjoy all the rights guaranteed under the Administrative Procedure Code of Georgia. Based on the principle of equality of arms, he/she may provide evidence, participate in the examination of the evidence, call witnesses, give explanations, file a motion and recusal, and express a personal opinion on any issue related to the case. During the judicial review of the case, a convicted person may speak in their native language and use interpreter's and/or lawyer's (defence lawyer's) services. If a convicted person cannot afford a lawyer (defence lawyer), the court shall appoint a lawyer (defence lawyer) for him/her at the expense of the State.

14. The time used to present a convicted person before the court and the time used by the court of first instance to deliver a decision shall be counted towards the total term of the administrative detention.

Article 91 - Court decision (ruling) on the imposition of administrative detention

1. A court decision (ruling) on the imposition of administrative detention may not be based on presumption. The court decision (ruling) shall be delivered only if, in the course of the hearing, the commission of the violation by the person is proved based on the solid evidence examined by the court.

2. A court decision (ruling) on the imposition of administrative detention shall be lawful, reasoned and fair.

3. A court decision (ruling) shall be deemed lawful if it has been delivered in compliance with the Constitution of Georgia and the requirements of other laws.

4. A court decision (ruling) shall be deemed reasoned if its findings are based on the totality of solid evidence examined at the hearing.

5. A court decision (ruling) shall be deemed fair if the imposed administrative detention is proportionate to the person of the offender and to the gravity of the disciplinary violation committed by him/her.

Article 92 - Issues to be decided by the court when imposing administrative detention

1. When imposing administrative detention, a court shall consequently decide the following issues in the following succession:

- a) whether or not the person committed an act provided for by this Code;
- b) whether or not an act performed by the person is unlawful;
- c) whether or not a person is to be charged with the commission of the act;
- d) whether or not administrative detention is to be imposed on the person and to what extent;
- e) what will happen to the items of material evidence.

2. When reviewing a case of a person charged with the commission of multiple disciplinary violations, the court shall decide the issues referred to in paragraph 1 of this article according to each violation separately and as a whole.

3. The court may jointly review the imposition of administrative detention on several persons charged with the commission of a disciplinary violation, based on the motion of the issuer of an order on the imposition of administrative detention or on its own initiative.

4. In the case provided for in paragraph 3 of this article, the issues referred to in paragraph 1 of this article, shall be decided for each person separately.

Article 93 - Appealing the decision (ruling) of the court of first instance

1. The decision (ruling) of the court of first instance may be appealed to an appellate court by the parties or their representatives within seven days after a copy of the decision (ruling) is delivered to them as provided for by the Civil Procedure Code of Georgia. The court shall immediately forward the submitted appeal to the appellate court and to the opposite party.

2. The appellate court shall review the appeal as a panel of three judges, in an open court hearing. The appellate court shall review the case and deliver the decision (ruling) according to the procedure and within the period of time established by this Code for the court of first instance.

3. The decision (ruling) of the appellate court is final and without appeal.

Article 94 - Organisation and control of enforcement related issues

1. The court that has delivered the decision (ruling) shall refer the decision (ruling) on the imposition of administrative detention for enforcement. The Department shall organise and control an enforcement process.
2. The procedure for serving the term of administrative detention is defined by an order of the Minister.
3. The term of administrative detention shall not be counted towards the total term of the sentence to be served by the convicted person.
