

LAW OF GEORGIA
ON PAYMENT SYSTEMS AND PAYMENT SERVICES

Chapter I. General Provisions

Article 1 - Purpose and scope of the Law

1. This Law aims to promote safe, sustainable, and effective functioning of payment systems in Georgia. This Law defines the principles of regulation and supervision of payment systems and payment services, as well as matters relating to the application of financial collateral.
2. Relations connected to the payment system are governed by the Organic Law of Georgia on National Bank of Georgia, by this Law, and by the Law of Georgia on Securities Markets and other normative acts.
3. If there is a conflict between this Law and other laws with regard to the relations connected with the payment system and payment services, the provisions of this Law shall prevail.

Article 2 - Definition of terms

The terms used in this Law shall have the following meanings:

- a) payment system - fund transfer system, securities settlement system, clearing system;
- b) funds transfer system - a set of common rules and standard procedures that ensures the processing of fund transfer transactions or transfer orders;
- c) securities settlement system - a set of rules and standard procedures that are common for three or more system participants, and based on which securities are transferred;
- d) clearing system - a set of rules and standard procedures that are common for three or more system participants through which transfer orders issued by participants are processed and based on which net positions are calculated and/or established for future settlement among the participants and in which the calculation of net positions may be based on the principle by which the system operator becomes seller to every buyer and buyer to every seller;
- e) net position - the sum of the value of all transfers or other claims that a system participant has received up to a particular time, less the value of all transfers or other liabilities that a system participant has made in favour of any other participant(s);
- f) net credit position (net claim) – a positive value obtained in the process of determining the net position of a participant;
- g) net debit position (net obligation) – a negative value obtained in the process of determining the net position of the participant;
- h) offsetting mutual obligations (netting) - calculating and/or establishing net positions, as a result of which net payment or net settlement obligations are determined between settling participants within the payment system; offsetting mutual obligations (netting) shall be based both on calculating, offsetting bilateral (between two participants) and multilateral (among more than two participants) mutual obligations and claims;
- i) system operator (operator) - a legal person that under the legislation of Georgia, either independently or with other legal persons, is responsible and authorised to operate payment systems and develop system rules;
- j) system rules - a set of rules and procedures, developed by a system operator, that determines system performance;
- k) important payment system – a system of an operator registered by the National Bank of Georgia that has three or more participants and is considered as a important payment system under Article 4 of this Law;
- l) system participant (participant) - a legal person that may directly issue a transfer order within a system and is considered a system participant under the system rules. A system participant may be the National Bank of Georgia, a foreign central bank, a clearing house, a financial institution, an international financial institution, a payment services provider, a settlement agent, a system operator, the Ministry for Finance of Georgia or its structural unit, a foreign government agency or a foreign payment system;
- m) settlement agent - a legal person providing system participants with settlement accounts, through which transfer orders within the system are settled. A settlement agent may be the National Bank of Georgia, a commercial bank or any other legal person that may provide securities accounts and related services under the legislation of Georgia;
- n) settlement account - a unique account at a settlement agent used to hold funds or financial instruments and to settle transactions in a system;
- o) settlement – a transaction with the intent of discharging participants' obligations through the transfer of funds and/or financial instruments;
- p) transfer order - an order issued in the system by a system participant to another system participant to transfer to the recipient funds or the title or claim to financial instruments; or an order by which a participant assumes or discharges payment obligations as defined by system rules;
- q) financial institution - an institution as defined by the Law of Georgia on Securities Markets;

r) financial instrument – negotiable securities evidencing ownership interest in a local or foreign company, or their equivalent; a negotiable debt instrument/liability; other negotiable securities, which entitle the holder to acquire securities by subscription, purchase, or exchange, or which are to be settled by paying the difference between the agreed and current prices, or which give rise to a cash settlement, excluding payment instruments; the right issued by collective investment undertakings; money or foreign exchange market instruments; precious metals held on an account; any other cash instrument and/or an instrument evidencing a legally binding agreement related to cash payments between two or more parties, as well as the claims and rights in relation to the above instruments or the rights to those instruments;

s) repo agreement - an agreement intended to ensure the fulfilment of contractual obligations by the parties, where one party agrees to sell securities to the other party in return for the amount paid by the buyer to the seller, with a concurrent agreement that the buyer will sell the same or similar securities to the seller on a certain agreed date or upon request in return for the repurchase amount paid by the buyer to the seller;

t) limited activity regime (the Regime) - a set of measures taken under Georgian or foreign legislation with a view to declaring a legal person insolvent, bankrupt, or liquidated that results or may result in the termination or suspension of, or imposition of restrictions on the transfer of funds or the transfer of titles to or claims to financial instruments and/or the payment transactions. For the purposes of this Law, the 'Regime' in Georgia shall imply declaring an entity as bankrupt or insolvent, the commencement of rehabilitation procedures as provided for by the Law of Georgia on Insolvency Proceedings, the imposition of a temporary administration regime and/or the commencement of liquidation proceedings under the Law of Georgia on Activities of Commercial Banks or the Law of Georgia on Insurance;

u) default – non-performance or improper performance of obligations assumed by one of the parties to the agreement, or any other event provided for in the agreement, as a result of which the other party to the agreement gains the right to enforce collateral or obtains any other right provided for by this Law and the agreement;

v) financial collateral - financial instruments or cash assets credited to an account that are used for securing claims in compliance with this Law;

w) collateral provider - a person ensuring the fulfilment of obligations by means of financial collateral under a financial collateral arrangement;

x) collateral taker - a person in whose favour the financial instruments or cash assets credited to an account are pledged under a financial collateral arrangement;

y) collateral enforcement – an event of default by one of the parties to a financial collateral arrangement, where under the terms of this agreement the other party is entitled to act under Article 37 of this Law or to immediately realise or appropriate financial collateral;

z) payment service provider (provider) - a legal person that provides payment services to a payment service user under the legislation of Georgia;

z¹) electronic money provider – a payment service provider who issues electronic money under the legislation of Georgia;

z²) payment service user (user) - a person who uses a payment service as a payer and/or a payee;

z³) payer - a person who issues payment orders and/or agrees to the issuance of payment orders;

z⁴) payee - a person in whose favour a payment transaction is made;

z⁵) payment instrument - a tool and/or a set of procedures agreed to between a payment service provider and a payment service user, through which the payment service user initiates a payment order;

z⁶) electronic money instrument - a payment instrument that makes it possible to use electronic money;

z⁷) electronic money – a value equivalent to funds received by an electronic money provider from users for carrying out payment service transactions, which is stored on payment instruments and which is recognised as a means of payment by its issuer and other persons. The ratio of electronic money and the funds received in its stead, as set by the electronic money provider, shall be the same at all stages of the activity of the provider;

z⁸) money remittance – a payment service where a natural person transfers funds without any accounts being opened for the payer and the natural person receiving the payment, and which is not related to the fulfilment of monetary obligations; a payment service where funds are transferred directly to the payee or to another payment service provider acting on behalf of the payee in order to transfer the funds to the payee;

z⁹) payment transaction - a transaction initiated by a payer or a payee for placing/crediting, transferring, or withdrawing funds;

z¹⁰) payment order - an instruction from a payer or a payee to their respective payment service provider requesting the execution of a payment transaction;

z¹¹) standing order - an instruction from a payer to a payment service provider, based on which the payment service provider makes regular payments to the payee;

z¹²) direct debit - a payment instrument for the debiting of a payer's account in which a payee initiates a payment transaction on the basis of prior authorisation given by the payer;

z¹³) authentication - a procedure through which a payment service provider verifies the use of a payment instrument, including its personalized features;

z¹⁴) acquiring - an activity that ensures, on the basis of the agreement with trade and/or service outlets or other entities, through electronic and technical means, the execution of payment transactions through a payment instrument, the execution of internet payment transactions using the payment instrument details, the execution of cash withdrawal transactions using a payment instrument, and the relevant settlement;

z¹⁵) agent - a person acting on behalf of a payment service provider in providing services;

z¹⁶) significant share - 10 % or more of declared or paid-in capital owned by a person through direct or indirect participation;

z¹⁷) enforcement measures - measures taken under the legislation of Georgia to make a person meet the obligations stipulated by the legislation of Georgia and/or an agreement, including coercive enforcement and the means for securing a claim as provided for by the Civil Code of Georgia.

Chapter II. System Operator

Article 3 - Registering system operators

1. A legal person may manage payment systems in the territory of Georgia only after the National Bank of Georgia registers it as an operator under this Law.
2. System operators shall be registered and deregistered under the procedures and requirements established by the National Bank of Georgia.
3. To ensure the smooth provision of payment services and reliable functioning of payment systems, the National Bank of Georgia may establish compatible standards for the functioning of payment systems, including exchanging information and transfer orders.
4. The National Bank of Georgia may, within its competence and under its procedures, request and receive financial, statistical, and any other information from any system operator.

Article 4 - Important payment system

For the purposes of this Law, to maintain the confidence of society, and/or the stability of payment and/or financial systems, the National Bank of Georgia may, under its procedures, define an important payment system and establish additional requirements for the system and/or its operators.

Article 5 - Exceptions to application of this Chapter

Registration requirements under this Chapter shall not apply to a system operator if the system operator is:

- a) the National Bank of Georgia (the National Bank Systems);
- b) a central depository licensed by the National Bank of Georgia;
- c) a commercial bank licensed by the National Bank of Georgia;
- d) an internationally recognized payment system operator that is not registered as a legal person or as a branch of a legal person under the legislation of Georgia;
- e) a payment service provider, but only if this system is used to provide payment services to the users of this provider.

Chapter III. Protecting Important Payment Systems

Article 6 - Scope of this Chapter

1. This Chapter shall apply only to the National Bank systems and systems that are considered, under this Law, as important. To ensure the stability of the financial system, this Chapter may also apply to any other system by decision of the National Bank of Georgia.
2. The National Bank of Georgia shall publish the list of systems to which this Chapter shall apply.
3. If under the decision of the National Bank of Georgia the system of a central depository is deemed as important, the central depository shall be obliged to comply with the requirements established for important payment systems.

Article 7 - Protecting settlement accounts

1. Enforcement measures, excluding collection orders, may not be applied against funds and financial instruments held in settlement accounts.
2. The National Bank of Georgia, under its procedures, may set requirements for system operators and/or settlement agents with regard to settlement accounts, as well as funds and financial instruments held on settlement accounts.
3. In the circumstances specified in the relevant system rules, system operators and/or settlement agents may temporarily suspend transactions on the settlement accounts of system participants. While exercising the authority under this paragraph, system operators and/or settlement agents shall be guided by the interests of system participants and/or by the stability of financial systems.

Article 8 - Irrevocability of transfer orders

System rules shall define the circumstances after which transfer orders entered into the system shall be considered as accepted into the system. Transfer orders accepted into the system may not be revoked either by system participants or by third parties, including liquidators, insolvency administrators, temporary administrators, administrative or judiciary bodies.

Article 9 - Finality of payment, clearing, and settlement

1. The commencement of a limited activity regime against a system participant shall have no retroactive effect on the rights and obligations related to or arising from their participation in the system before the commencement of the limited activity regime.

2. For the purposes of this Chapter, a limited activity regime against the National Bank system participants shall be considered commenced if:

a) the National Bank of Georgia, under Article 11 of this Law, receives notification from the registration authority concerned on commencing liquidation, insolvency, and/or bankruptcy proceedings against the participant;

b) the National Bank of Georgia issues a relevant decision, provided that the participant concerned is a commercial bank;

b¹) a legal entity under public law (LEPL) – the Insurance State Supervision Service of Georgia, issues a relevant decision, provided that the participant is an insurance company;

c) any other authorised entity submits official information on commencement of a limited activity regime against the participant;

3. A limited activity regime against a participant of a system that is not operated by the National Bank of Georgia shall be considered commenced if:

a) an operator receives information on a relevant decision made by the National Bank of Georgia, provided that the participant is a commercial bank;

a¹) an operator receives information on a relevant decision made by the LEPL Insurance State Supervision Service of Georgia, provided that the participant is an insurance company;

b) an operator receives notification from the National Bank of Georgia under Article 11 of this Law;

c) any other authorised entity submits official information on the commencement of a limited activity regime against a participant.

4. The provisions of this paragraph shall be binding on third parties, including liquidators, insolvency administrators, and temporary administrators, as well as for administrative and judiciary bodies and the following may not be disputed:

a) a transfer order entered into the system under the system rules before the commencement of the limited activity regime, irrespective of whether funds, titles or claims to financial instruments were transferred under that transfer order before or after commencement of the regime;

b) netting of claims and obligations under transfer orders accepted into the system under the system rules before the commencement of a limited activity regime, irrespective of whether netting was executed before or after commencement of the regime.

5. Third parties, including liquidators, insolvency administrators, and temporary administrators, as well as administrative and judiciary bodies shall be obliged to execute netting at clearing houses and may not dispute the netting if the notification of claims and obligations was sent to the clearing house before the commencement of a limited activity regime, irrespective of whether the netting transaction was executed before or after the commencement of the limited activity regime.

Law of Georgia No 355 of 20 March 2013 – website, 4.4.2013

Article 10 - Settling accounts after the commencement of limited activity regime 1. Irrespective of the commencement of a limited activity regime against a system participant, system operators and/or settlement agents may:

a) for the purposes of Article 9 of this Law, use funds and/or financial instruments held in the settlement accounts of system participants for final settlement in the system in order to make payments under transfer orders accepted into the system, or to discharge net obligations resulting from netting;

b) for the purposes of Article 9 of this Law, use the participant's credit line for final settlement if so provided for in an agreement with the participant; realise the financial collateral secured for the credit line to discharge the liabilities to the system operator and/or to the settlement agent as provided for in Article 38 of this Law.

2. In the cases provided for in the first paragraph of this Article, the funds available in the settlement accounts of the participant, or the funds available under a credit line extended to the participant, may only be used up to the amount of the transfer orders accepted into the system before the commencement of limited activity regime or up to the amount of net obligations calculated on the basis of those transfer orders.

Article 11 – Notification of the commencement of a limited activity regime

1. The National Bank of Georgia shall prepare and submit to respective registration authorities, in tangible and/or electronic form, the list of systems and their participants to which this Chapter shall apply.
2. The National Bank of Georgia shall receive from the registration authorities concerned information of commencement of a limited activity regime against system participants, operators, or settlement agents.
3. Upon receiving information from relevant foreign authorities on commencement of a limited activity regime against foreign system participants, operators, or settlement agents, the National Bank of Georgia shall immediately provide the information to local system operators.
4. System participants shall be obliged to immediately notify operators, while operators and/or settlement agents shall be obliged to immediately notify the National Bank of Georgia that a limited activity regime has been commenced against them.
5. The National Bank of Georgia shall immediately notify local system operators if liquidation or a temporary administration regime has been imposed on system participants, operators, or settlement agents on the basis of information received under the second paragraph of this Article or on the basis of its own decision.

Article 12 - Determining the relevant legislation

1. If the limited activity regime is commenced against a foreign participant of National Bank systems or a participant of an important payment system as defined by this Law, the rights and obligations with respect to participating in the system shall be defined by the legislation of Georgia.
2. If a limited activity regime is commenced against the participant of a foreign system, which is at the same time a legal person operating under the legislation of Georgia, the rights and obligations with respect to participating in the system shall be defined by the foreign legislation under which the system operates.

Chapter IV. Payment Services

Article 13 - Concept of payment services

1. For the purposes of this Law, payment services shall mean:
 - a) services that ensure the debiting of funds from the payer's account and related transactions;
 - b) services related to the crediting of funds to the payee's account and related transactions;
 - c) making payments through direct debits (including one-off orders), payment cards, or any other electronic means, or credit transfers (including standing orders) within the funds or credit resources of a payment service user;
 - d) issuing and/or acquiring payment instruments, including electronic money instruments;
 - e) remittances;
 - f) issuing electronic money, executing payment transactions by means of electronic money through a mobile phone, internet, or any other electronic device;
 - g) executing payment transactions based on the consent of the payer given by means of telecommunication, digital, or IT devices, to or in favour of the telecommunication, IT system, or network operator that acts as an intermediary between the payer and the payee, as well as between the user and the supplier of goods or services.
2. For the purposes of this Law, payment services shall not include:
 - a) payment transactions executed in cash and directly between the payer and the payee, without any intermediary intervention;
 - b) payment transactions between the payer and the payee through a commercial agent;
 - c) collection services related to transporting banknotes and coins, including their collection, processing, and delivery;
 - d) cash-to-cash exchange services where the funds are not held in a bank account;
 - e) transactions executed between system participants within a payment system;
 - f) services performed by technical, telecommunication, digital, or IT service providers that technically support payment services, without the provider entering at any time into possession of the funds to be transferred. These services include the processing and storage of data, protection of privacy, data and entity authentication, telecommunication or information technology services, provision and maintenance of technical devices for payment services;
 - g) services based on payment instruments or electronic money that can be used to acquire goods or services only in or on the issuer's premises;
 - h) payment transactions executed by means of any telecommunication, digital, or IT device, where the purchased goods or services are delivered to and are used through the same telecommunication, digital, or IT device, provided that the telecommunication, digital, or IT operator does not act only as an intermediary between the payment service user and the supplier of the goods or services;

i) payment transactions related to securities asset servicing, including dividends, income or other distributions, sale and redemption of securities, carried out by a regulated securities market participant;

j) payments between the companies within a group made without the participation of a payment service provider;

k) payment transactions executed through a cheque under the Law of Georgia on Cheques.

3. The National Bank of Georgia, under its procedures, may define the types of services not included in payment services, and may also define the categories of electronic money and payment instruments, the transactions executed by which are not considered as payment services and/or are not subject to this Law.

4. For the purposes of this article, 'commercial agent' shall mean a person authorised to act on behalf of a payer or a payee in the purchase or delivery of goods or services.

Article 14 - Exceptions to application of this Chapter

1. This chapter shall not apply to:

a) the National Bank of Georgia

b) foreign central banks and international financial institutions

c) internationally recognised payment service providers that are not registered as a legal person or as a branch of a legal person under the legislation of Georgia.

2. The requirements of Article 15(1, 4, and 5), Article 17, and Article 18(1-5) of this Law shall not apply to commercial banks operating in Georgia.

3. The requirements of Article 15(1, 4, and 5) of this Law shall not apply to microfinance organisations registered by the National Bank of Georgia.

Article 15 - Registering payment service providers and providing payment services

1. Payment services may not be carried out by the person that is not:

a) a payment service provider registered by the National Bank of Georgia

b) a commercial bank or a microfinance organization

c) a person defined by Article 14(1) of this Law.

2. Payment service providers may provide payment services through an agent or agents. The National Bank of Georgia shall establish the procedure for submitting information about agents.

3. Payment service providers providing payment services through an agent shall be liable to third persons for the payment services executed by the agent. This shall not exempt the agent from obligations to the payment service provider.

4. The National Bank of Georgia, under its procedures, shall register and deregister payment service providers.

5. The National Bank of Georgia shall publish a list of payment service providers.

Article 16 – Receiving and publishing information

1. The National Bank of Georgia, under its procedures and within its competence, may request and receive financial, statistical, and other information from payment service providers.

2. The National Bank of Georgia, under its procedures, may determine payment services related information that shall be published by payment service providers.

Article 17 - Significant payment service provider

1. The National Bank of Georgia may establish additional requirements for a payment service provider if the volume of electronic money issued by the provider or by an entity related to the provider, or the turnover of other payment services of the provider or of an entity related to the provider, exceeds the limits set by the National Bank of Georgia.

2. If the National Bank of Georgia considers a payment service provider as significant to the financial sector, it may issue an individual administrative legal act to make the requirements set forth in the first paragraph of this article applicable to the payment service provider even if the volume of electronic money issued by the provider or an entity related to the provider, or the turnover of other payment services of the provider or an entity related to the provider does not exceed the limits set forth in the first paragraph of this article.

3. A payment service provider, specified in the first and second paragraphs of this article ('a significant payment service provider') at every stage of its business activity, shall be obliged to comply with the minimum capital requirements, according to the capital types, established and calculated by the National Bank of Georgia. If a significant payment service provider is at the same time a microfinance organization, it shall comply with the highest of the capital requirements set by this Law and the Law of Georgia on Microfinance Organizations.

4. For purposes of the first paragraph of this article the National Bank of Georgia may define the conditions, under which an entity can be considered as an entity related to a payment service provider.

5. The requirements established by the National Bank of Georgia for a significant payment service provider, shall remain in force despite the fact that the volume of electronic money on issued electronic monetary instruments or the turnover of other payment services no longer exceed the limits established by the National Bank of Georgia under the first paragraph of this article, with the exception of the cases specified in the sixth paragraph of this article.

6. The National Bank of Georgia may exempt a payment service provider from the requirements established for a significant payment service provider, by issuing an individual administrative legal act, if:

a) for three consecutive months, the amount of electronic money on issued electronic monetary instruments or the turnover of other payment services no longer exceeds the limits established by the National Bank of Georgia under the first paragraph of this article;

b) additional requirements for the payment service provider have been established based on the second paragraph of this article.

7. The National Bank of Georgia, under its procedures and within its competence, may request, and receive financial information, including audited, statistical and any other information from a significant payment service provider.

Article 18 - User's funds

1. The National Bank of Georgia, under its procedures, may set requirements for a significant payment service provider with respect to the funds received from the user (user funds) in exchange for electronic money or for any other payment services.

2. User funds held at a significant payment service provider shall be credited to a different bank account(s), separate from the provider's own funds. Measures for securing the obligations of a significant payment service provider may not apply to user funds.

3. The National Bank of Georgia may request certain significant payment service providers to present a guarantee and/or an insurance policy to secure user funds.

4. The National Bank of Georgia may request the replacement or addition of terms of a guarantee and/or insurance policy, as well as of the guarantor and/or the insurer presented under the third paragraph of this Article.

5. A significant payment service provider may not use user funds to secure its obligations.

6. User funds received by a payment service provider shall not be considered as a deposit.

7. At the request of a payment service user, a payment service provider shall be obliged to exchange the user's electronic money for funds.

8. An electronic money provider may not accrue interest in favour of the electronic money user on the funds received in exchange for providing services.

9. A payment service provider may not use user funds to issue a credit/overdraft.

10. Electronic money is an obligation of the electronic money provider to the user.

11. A legal person and an individual entrepreneur registered under the legislation of Georgia may participate in an electronic money scheme as a payee of the amount of the payment transaction and may not act as a payer, with the exception of when the amount of the executed transaction is returned to the payer. After the receipt of electronic money from these entities, the electronic money provider shall be obliged to transfer the equivalent amount of funds in exchange for the electronic money to the bank accounts of the above entities, not later than within 15 bank days.

Chapter V. Rights and Obligations Related to Payment Services

Article 19 - Protecting payment services

1. The requirements of this Chapter shall be completed in compliance with the provisions of Article 8 and 9 of this Law.

2. The provisions of this chapter shall apply to payment transactions executed in GEL or in foreign currency. If a foreign payment or notification exchange system participates in executing a transaction, a payment service provider operating in Georgia shall not be subject to the requirements of Article 26 (2)(a), Article 27 and the third paragraph of Article 28 of this Law.

3. The provisions of Articles 24, 25, 26, Article 30 (1)(c) and (2)(d, e), and Article 32 shall not be applicable during a state of emergency or martial law provided for by the legislation of Georgia, if that situation directly affects the provider or user in terms of fulfilling their obligations under this Law, and also if the National Bank of Georgia restricts transactions on the basis of special circumstances and/or taking into account financial system stability.

Article 20 - Providing information to and/or concluding agreements with users

A payment service provider shall be obliged to provide information to and/or conclude agreements with users according to the procedures established by the National Bank of Georgia. The information and/or agreements shall include the service conditions, including service time frames, tariffs, and rights and obligations of a provider and user.

Article 21 - Low-volume payment instruments

1. The National Bank of Georgia, under its procedures, may determine the features of low-volume payment instruments.
2. If there is a relevant agreement between the user and the provider, a low volume payment instrument shall not be subject to the following provisions of this Law:
 - a) the requirements of Article 30(1)(c) and (2)(d,e), and Article 33(4,5), if the instrument cannot restrict and/or block transactions;
 - b) the requirements of Article 32(2) and Article 33(1-3), if the instrument can be used anonymously or, based on the specificities of the instrument, the provider cannot prove that the payment transaction is authorised;
 - c) the requirement of the first paragraph of Article 25(1), if the payment transaction is refused due to the features of the instrument;
 - d) time frames for performing the payment order specified in Article 26;
 - e) the right to revoke the payment order specified in Article 29.

Article 22 - Authorising payment transactions

1. A payment transaction shall be considered authorised, only if there is a payer's consent to execute a payment transaction, unless otherwise provided for by the legislation of Georgia.
2. The form and procedure for giving consent shall be defined by the agreement between the payer and the payment service provider. In the absence of consent, the payment transaction shall be considered to be unauthorised.
3. If consent is given by means of a payment instrument, a payment service provider may set limits on payment transactions executed through that payment instrument, as well as block the payment instrument in circumstances provided for in the agreement with the user.
4. A payer may withdraw its consent to the execution of a payment transaction under Article 29 of this Law.

Article 23 - A Payment order

1. A payment order submitted by a user to a payment service provider shall comply with the standards set by the provider and shall contain details to ensure fulfilment of the payment order by the payment service provider, and any other information provided for in the legislation of Georgia.
2. The form and structure of a payment order shall be determined by a provider.
3. The provider shall be liable for any information which it adds, with the intent of ensuring that the payment order complies with the requirements of the payment system and the legislation of Georgia.
4. The user shall be responsible for the accuracy and completeness of the details of the submitted payment order.
5. A payment order may be issued in writing, as well as through electronic, IT, or any other technological means. The National Bank of Georgia may define a procedure for submitting (initiating) payment orders which is different from the procedure laid down in this article.

Article 24. Receiving and executing payment orders

1. The moment of receipt of a payment order by a payer's payment service provider shall be considered as the moment of receipt of the payment order, irrespective of whether the payment order is initiated by the payer or the payee. If a payment order is received by the payer's provider on a day that is a non-business day for the provider, the payment order shall be considered to have been received on the following business day. A payer's payment service provider may set a specific point in time during its business day after which payment orders received shall be considered as having been received on the following business day.
2. If the date of executing a payment order (future date of execution of the transfer) has been agreed between the user and the provider, for the purposes of Article 26, the agreed date shall be considered as the moment of receiving the order. If the agreed day is a non-business day for the user's provider, the payment order shall be considered to have been received on the business day following the agreed date.
3. On the day of receiving a payment order the payer's provider shall be obliged to notify the payer of receipt of the payment order in the form agreed to by the parties and in as provided for by the legislation of Georgia, or make this information available to the payer by other means.
4. If a payment order is to be executed on the date agreed to under the second paragraph of this article, a payer's provider may receive the payment order at any time before the agreed date, despite the absence of funds in the payer's account, unless otherwise provided for by the agreement between the payer and the payer's provider and/or by the rules set by the provider.

Article 25 - Refusal of payment orders

1. If a payment service provider refuses to execute a payment order, it shall be obliged to inform the user accordingly in line with procedures established by the National Bank of Georgia, or to make this information available to the user by other means at the earliest opportunity, but not later than the payment order execution deadline.
2. If the requirements set out in the agreement between a payer and its provider and the requirements specified by the rules of the provider are met, the payer's payment service provider may not refuse to execute a payment order authorised by the payer, irrespective of whether the payment order is initiated by a payer or by or through a payee, except as provided for by the legislation of Georgia.
3. If the payer does not have enough funds to execute the payment transaction on the agreed day, the payer's provider may refuse to execute the payment order, unless otherwise agreed to between the payer and its provider.
4. For the purposes of Article 26 and Article 31 of this Law, a rejected payment order shall be deemed not to have been received.

Article 26 - Time frames for executing payment orders

1. If the payer and the payee are users of the same provider, the provider shall ensure that the amount of the payment transaction specified in the payment order is credited to the account of the payee, and/or otherwise make it available to the payee on the day of receipt of the payment order, unless otherwise provided for by a legal act of the National Bank of Georgia.
2. If the payer and the payee have different payment service providers:
 - a) the payer's payment service provider shall ensure that the amount of the payment transaction specified in the payment order is credited to the payee's payment service provider's account not later than the business day following the day of receipt of the payment order, unless otherwise provided for by a legal act of the National Bank of Georgia;
 - b) the payee's payment service provider shall credit funds to the payee's account or otherwise make them available to the payee on the day the funds are credited to its account, and if the day when the money is credited is a non-business day for the provider, the payee's payment service provider shall credit the money not later than the following business day, unless otherwise provided for by a legal act of the National Bank of Georgia.
3. If the payee's provider cannot identify the payee on the basis of received information, the payee's provider shall transfer the money back according to the procedure established by the National Bank of Georgia.
4. The payee's provider shall be obliged to transmit a payment order initiated by or through the payee to the payer's payment service provider within the time frame agreed to between the payee and its payment provider; in the event of a direct debit the payment order shall be transmitted to the payer's provider within the time frame established by the National Bank of Georgia.
5. If a user deposits cash in a bank account or exchanges it for electronic money, the provider shall be obliged to immediately make that amount available to the account holder or electronic money user.
6. To confirm the execution of a payment order, a payer may additionally request a confirmation document from its provider. A document shall be issued to confirm the execution of a payment order according to procedures established by the National Bank of Georgia, in tangible or electronic form and shall contain the information specified in the procedure in addition to the information indicated by the payer in the payment order.
7. The processing/existence of a payment transaction in a system, its details, purpose and date, as well as crediting it to the payee's provider's account may be confirmed in the presence of any authorised person in writing or in electronic form, through an electronic document retrieved from the system.

Article 27 - Executing payments

1. A payment shall be considered to be executed upon crediting funds to the payee's account, with the exception of the cases provided for in the second paragraph of this article.
2. Before the funds are credited to a payee's account, the payee may define the time or circumstances when he/she will consider the payment transaction to be executed.

Article 28 – Amounts transferred and amounts received

1. The payer's payment service provider, as well as an intermediary of the provider participating in the execution of a payment order, shall be obliged to transfer the full amount specified in the payment order.
2. The payee's payment service provider shall be obliged to credit to the payee's account funds in an amount equal to the amount credited to the payee's provider account, or make the funds available to the payee by other means, unless otherwise agreed to between the payee and its provider. The payee's provider shall be obliged, in the form agreed with the payee, to inform the payee of the amount of funds credited to the payee's provider's account and on the amount of charges, if the deduction of charges is provided for in the agreement between the payee and its provider.
3. If any charges are deducted from the amount transferred, except for charges specified in the second paragraph of this article, the payer's provider shall ensure that the payee receives the full amount specified in the payment order initiated by the payer, unless otherwise provided for in the agreement between the payee and the payer's provider. If the payment order is initiated by or through the payee, the payee's provider shall ensure that the payee receives the full amount specified in the payment order.

4. A payment order may not be executed partially, unless otherwise provided for in procedures established by the National Bank of Georgia.

Article 29 - Irrevocability of payment orders

1. A payment service user may not revoke a payment order if it has been received by the payer's provider, except in the cases defined by this article.
2. If a payment order is initiated by or through the payee, except for a direct debit, the payer may not revoke the payment order if the payment order has been transferred to the payer's provider or if the payer has given consent to the payee to execute the payment.
3. In the event of a direct debit, a payment order may be withdrawn under procedures established by the National Bank of Georgia.
4. In the circumstances provided for in Article 24(2) of this Law, a user may revoke a payment order not later than the business day proceeding the day agreed for debiting the funds.
5. If there is a relevant agreement between the user and its provider, a payment order may be revoked upon the expiry of the deadline (upon the occurrence of the circumstances) specified in Paragraphs (1-4) of this Article in compliance with the provisions of Articles 8 and 9 of this Law. If such agreement is in place, there must be a relevant agreement with the payee in order for the payee to revoke a payment order in the cases specified in the third and second paragraphs of this article.

Article 30 - Obligations related to payment instruments

1. A payment service user shall be obliged to:
 - a) use the payment instrument in compliance with the conditions established for the payment instrument;
 - b) comply with security measures of payment instruments issued to him/her to ensure protecting the payment instrument's personalized means;
 - c) notify the payment service provider or the person designated by the provider, on becoming aware of the loss, theft, misappropriation or unauthorised use of the payment instrument.
2. The payment service provider shall be obliged to:
 - a) take all possible measures to protect the payment instrument and prevent its misuse;
 - b) ensure that the personalised security features and means of the payment instrument are not accessible to persons other than the owner of the payment instrument;
 - c) clearly define for the payment service user the security requirements of a payment instrument;
 - d) ensure that the notifications specified in paragraph 1(g) of this article are received at any time either directly from the payment service user or from a person designated by it. At a payment service user's request, the provider shall be obliged to provide confirmation of receipt of the notification, unless more than 18 months have passed since receipt of the notification;
 - e) prevent any use of the payment instrument once the payment service user's notification specified in paragraph 1(g) of this article is received.
3. The payment service provider shall bear all risks of sending a payment instrument or any of its personalized security features and means.
4. The provider shall not be liable for the results arising from the refusal of the user to comply with the security measures offered by the provider. In that case, the user shall be liable for damages arising from the refusal to comply with the security measures.
5. The National Bank of Georgia, under its procedures, may establish requirements and limits to a payment service provider, in relation to payment instruments, including electronic monetary instruments.

Article 31 - Non-execution or defective execution of payment orders

1. A payment service provider shall not be liable for non-execution or defective execution of payment orders resulting from incorrect information provided in a payment order submitted by the user. This shall not exempt the provider from the obligation to assist, within its abilities, the user to retrieve the incorrectly transferred amount.
2. If the provisions of the first paragraph of this article and Article 32 of this Law have been observed, the payer's provider shall be liable to the payer for the correct execution of the payment order initiated by the payer, unless it can prove to the payer, and, where relevant, to the payee's provider, that the details were correctly indicated and the payee's provider received the amount of the payment transaction according to Article 26(2)(a). If the payer's provider proves the correctness of the payment order execution, the payee's provider shall be liable to the payee for the correctness of the transaction.
3. If the payer's provider is liable for defective execution of a payment transaction under the second paragraph of this article, it shall be obliged to refund the payer the amount incorrectly transferred and the charges for the transaction.

4. If the payee's provider is liable for defective execution of a payment transaction under the second paragraph of this article, the provider shall be obliged to credit the amount of the payment transaction to the payee's account or make it available to the payee by other means.
5. If a payment order is initiated by or through the payee, provided the provisions of the first paragraph of this article and those of Article 32 are met, the payee's provider is liable to the payee for correct transmission of the payment order initiated by the payee to the payer's provider under Article 26(4) of this Law. If the payee's provider sent the payment order in breach of the requirements provided in this paragraph, the provider shall be obliged to ensure that the mistake is rectified.
6. The payee's provider shall be liable to the payee for breach of Article 26(2)(b) of this Law when crediting the amount of a payment order initiated by the payee to the payee's account.
7. The payer's provider shall be liable to the payer for non-execution or defective execution of a payment order initiated by the payee, except for the cases provided for in the fifth and sixth paragraphs of this article. The payer's provider shall be obliged to refund to the payer the amount of a defectively executed transaction and charges paid for the transaction.
8. If the provider's liability under this Article is caused by the action or inaction of another provider, intermediary or entity participating in the execution of the payment transaction, the provider may request the entity concerned to compensate the provider for the losses (if any) incurred and refund amounts paid under this Chapter.
9. Fulfilling the requirements of this Chapter shall not exempt the parties from the obligation to compensate losses according to the legislation of Georgia.

Article 32 - Notification of unauthorised or incorrectly executed payment transaction

1. A user may request the payment service provider to refund the amount of an unauthorized or incorrectly executed transaction according to the provisions of this chapter, unless more than 40 days have passed from the date of execution of the unauthorised transaction or more than 180 days have passed from the execution of the incorrectly executed transaction, and the user notified the provider on becoming aware of the unauthorised or incorrectly executed transaction shortly after receiving the information regarding such transaction; in the case of a direct debit, a user is entitled to redress within the time frame established by the procedure of the National Bank of Georgia.
2. If the user claims that the payment transaction is unauthorised or has not been correctly executed, it is up to the provider to prove that the transaction was authenticated and/or correctly executed and not affected by a technical breakdown or some other deficiency.
3. If the user fails to notify the provider of an unauthorised or incorrectly executed payment transaction within the time frame under the first paragraph of this article, it does not exempt the provider from the obligation to help the user, within its ability, to recover the amount of the unauthorised or incorrectly executed transaction.

Article 33 - Payment service user's and payment service provider's liability for unauthorised payment transactions

1. The payment service provider shall be obliged to refund to the payer the amount of the unauthorised payment transaction, provided that the provisions of Article 32 of this Law have been observed, except for the cases specified in the third paragraph of this article. The amount to be refunded to the user shall be determined under the second and fourth paragraphs of this article.
2. A payer shall bear the losses relating to any unauthorised transaction executed in the territory of Georgia, up to the amount of GEL 100, resulting from the use of a stolen or lost payment instrument, or from its misappropriation or illegal use, except for cases provided for in the third paragraph of this article. For the purpose of this paragraph, a transaction executed by Internet shall be considered as executed in the territory of Georgia, provided that it has been executed with a payment instrument issued in Georgia and the website belongs to a citizen of Georgia, to a legal person registered in Georgia or to any other organisation under the legislation of Georgia that is not a legal person.
3. A payer shall bear all losses relating to any unauthorized payment transactions if he/she incurred them by acting fraudulently or by failing to fulfil the obligations under Article 30(1) of this Law either with intent or through gross negligence.
4. A payer shall not be liable for losses relating to an unauthorised transaction resulting from the use of a stolen, lost, misappropriated or illegally used payment instrument, and for losses resulting from its failure to comply with security measures of the payment instrument or personalized security means, provided that the payer has executed the transaction according to Article 30(1)(c) after receiving notification from the provider, except where the losses result from the payer's criminal or intentional act.
5. If the payment service provider fails to provide the notification required under Article 30(1)(c) at any time, the payer shall not be liable for losses relating to an unauthorised transaction resulting from the use of a stolen, lost, misappropriated or illegally used payment instrument, as well as for losses resulting from the failure to comply with security measures of a payment instrument or personalized security means, except where the losses result from the payer's criminal or intentional act.

Article 34 - Refunding the amount of authorised payment transactions

The National Bank of Georgia, under its procedures, may determine conditions and relevant time within which the payment service provider shall be obliged to compensate the amount of the authorised payment transaction to the payer, provided that the payment transaction has been initiated by or through the payee.

Article 35 - Scope of this Chapter

1. This chapter shall apply to all types of financial collateral agreements concluded between legal persons, where the collateral is a financial instrument and/or funds issued in Georgia.
2. A party to a financial collateral arrangement may be only Georgia, an executive authority of Georgia, the National Bank of Georgia, a settlement agent, an operator, a financial institution, a foreign central bank, a foreign financial institution, or an international financial institution.
3. A party to a government securities financial collateral arrangement may also be any legal person, provided that the other party to the agreement is a commercial bank.
4. The provisions of this Chapter shall also apply to claims to loan assets of a collateral provider pledged in favour of the National Bank of Georgia and registered in compliance with the legislation of Georgia.
5. Financial collateral may be used to secure obligations of any type, including present, future, prospective or contingent obligations that a collateral provider owes or may owe to a collateral taker.
6. A financial instrument pledged under the legislation of Georgia may not be used as financial collateral.
7. Enforcement measures provided for in the legislation of Georgia for securing the performance of obligations may not be used in relation to financial collateral.

Article 36 - Validity of financial collateral arrangements

1. A financial collateral arrangement shall be valid and its validity may not be challenged by third parties, including a liquidator, an insolvency administrator and a temporary administrator, or administrative and judiciary bodies, provided that the agreement is concluded in writing and a collateral taker or a person authorised by it is able to hold or control the collateral, which enables the collateral taker or the person acting on its behalf to prevent the collateral provider from using the collateral, and in case of enforcement against the collateral, to realise or appropriate it according to the provisions of this Chapter.
2. A collateral taker may hold and/or control the collateral if:
 - a) the financial collateral is a bearer financial instrument – by taking it into physical possession;
 - b) the financial collateral is a registered financial instrument - by recording it in the respective registry;
 - c) the financial collateral is a book entry financial instrument - by crediting it to the collateral taker's account or to the account of a collateral taker, a collateral provider or a third party held at a depositary which acts on the collateral taker's behalf, and by due registration of a security interest in the financial instrument by the collateral taker or by the depositary;
 - d) the financial collateral is cash credited to an account - by crediting it to the collateral taker's account or to the account of a collateral taker, a collateral provider or a third party at the bank which acts on behalf of the collateral taker; and by due registration of a security interest in the cash by the collateral taker or by a person acting on its behalf;
 - e) a repo agreement has been concluded between a collateral provider and a collateral taker - by transferring title to the collateral to the collateral taker according to the provisions of the repo transaction.
3. Commencement of limited activity regime shall not be the grounds for declaring financial collateral arrangements invalid and void, even if the financial collateral arrangement has come into existence or the financial collateral has been provided at any time before or on the day of the commencement of the Regime, provided that the collateral taker was not aware and could not possibly have been aware of the Regime commencement.
4. The requirements of the second paragraph of this article shall not apply to secured claims to the collateral taker's loan assets pledged in favour of the National Bank of Georgia. The agreement on providing loan assets as collateral in favour of the National Bank of Georgia shall be valid and may not be challenged by third parties, including, a liquidator, an insolvency administrator and a temporary administrator, as well as administrative and judicial bodies that are obliged to act under the conditions of the collateral.
5. If the obligations under the financial collateral arrangement are fulfilled, the collateral taker shall transfer the collateral to the collateral provider or, if so agreed by the parties to the collateral arrangement, set off the value of the collateral against the relevant obligations (netting) according to the provisions of this Chapter.
6. For a financial collateral agreement to be valid it need not be registered with any registration authority.

Article 37 – The results of the failure to perform the obligations under a financial collateral arrangements

1. In the event of collateral enforcement, provided that the provisions listed below are included in a financial collateral arrangement between the parties or by any other agreement of which financial collateral provisions as determined by this law form a part: obligations of the parties under the agreement shall be immediately performed, including cases, where the maturity of an obligation may not be due as of the moment of enforcing the collateral, and shall be expressed as an obligation to pay an amount representing the obligation's estimated current value, or shall be terminated and replaced by a new obligation to pay such an amount; and/or, taking into account what is due from each party to the other in respect of such obligations, a net obligation shall be calculated, which shall be paid by the party from whom the larger amount is due to the other party (netting).

2. In the event of collateral enforcement, the authorised person holding the collateral shall be obliged to notify the collateral provider of the enforcement of the financial collateral.

Article 38 – Using funds obtained from realising financial collateral to fulfil obligations

1. A provision of a financial collateral arrangement that stipulates fulfilling obligations with the proceeds from enforcing the collateral shall be valid and its validity shall not be challenged by third parties, including a liquidator, an insolvency administrator and temporary administrator, and by administrative and judicial bodies, even in the event of the commencement of a Regime in respect of a debtor, a creditor, a collateral provider or a collateral taker.

2. Financial instruments used as financial collateral under this Chapter may not be subject to enforcement measures; they may not be alienated or used in any form, except in the cases provided for in this Chapter.

3. A collateral provider's consent to a financial collateral arrangement implies that in the event of non-performance or improper performance of the contractual obligations by the collateral provider, a collateral taker may immediately realise or appropriate the collateral under this Law and under the terms of the agreement.

4. A collateral provider may not create another security interest and/or right with respect to the collateral provided under this Chapter. Such an agreement shall be void.

5. If financial instruments are provided as collateral, notwithstanding the commencement of a Regime with respect to the collateral provider or its default, the proceeds received by the collateral taker through realisation of the financial instrument and in the course of exercising the right under this Law and under the agreement, shall be used to fulfil the secured obligations to the collateral taker, or for netting, and in the case of cash collateral, the amount shall be used for netting.

6. After complete fulfilment of the obligations secured by financial collateral with the proceeds received from realisation of the financial collateral, the surplus (if any) shall be returned to the collateral provider.

7. If the proceeds received through realisation of financial collateral are insufficient to fulfil the obligations secured by the financial collateral, the collateral taker shall, with respect to the remaining part of the obligations, have the same rights as non-secured creditors enjoy under the legislation of Georgia.

Article 39 - Increasing, decreasing, and substituting financial collaterals

1. If the value of financial collateral or the secured obligation changes, the collateral shall increase or decrease respectively, if so provided for by the financial collateral arrangement.

2. A collateral provider may substitute collateral with an asset of the same value by withdrawing the initially provided asset, if so provided for by the financial collateral arrangement.

3. If an aggregate of different financial instruments is provided as financial collateral, the collateral provider's right to increase, decrease or substitute collateral shall not restrict the right of a collateral taker to hold and/or control financial collateral according to Article 36 of this Law, if so provided for by the financial collateral arrangement.

4. A collateral taker may use the financial collateral during the financial collateral arrangement at its discretion only if so provided for by the financial collateral arrangement. In this case, after the complete fulfilment of the obligation secured by the financial collateral, or if provided for by the financial collateral arrangement, the financial collateral taker shall be obliged, in the case of cash collateral, to return to the collateral provider the same amount in the same currency; if another financial instrument is provided as collateral, the collateral taker shall be obliged to return to the collateral provider financial instruments of the same debtor or issuer, of the same issue or class and of the same nominal currency, value or aggregate nominal value. A financial collateral arrangement may also obligate the collateral taker to return to the collateral provider other assets of similar value, if there are circumstances relating to or affecting the financial instrument that is provided as financial collateral.

5. Any increase, decrease, or substitution of financial collateral under the first and second paragraphs of this Article shall not be considered as a new financial collateral arrangement.

6. The provisions of the first and second paragraphs of this article shall be valid and may not be challenged by third parties, even if the increase or substitution of financial collateral took place after the commencement of a Regime, provided that the collateral taker was not aware and could not have been aware of the commencement of the Regime.

Article 40 – Preferential rights and unconditional satisfaction of secured creditors

Under this Chapter, a collateral taker shall have a preferential right over other secured creditors with respect to unconditional satisfaction of the claims secured by the financial collateral.

Article 41 - Holding financial instruments by book-entry

If the title to financial instruments is evidenced by a book-entry, the relations provided for in this Chapter shall be subject to the legislation of the country where the respective book-entry exists.

Article 42 - Regulating and supervising activities of system operators and payment service providers

1. The National Bank of Georgia may regulate and supervise the activities of system operators and payment service providers under the organic law of Georgia on the National Bank of Georgia, this Law and other normative acts. The National Bank of Georgia may issue normative acts regulating certain types of payment services.

2. To perform supervisory functions, the National Bank of Georgia may:

a) issue normative acts;

b) establish requirements for system operators and payment service providers with regard to system rules, procedures, standards, rights and obligations of system participants, security and maintenance of the system and other issues related to system operation;

c) establish additional requirements for a significant system operator and a payment service significant provider for the purposes of this Law;

d) exempt a significant system operator and a payment service significant provider from the obligation to comply with the norms set forth by this Law and those established by the National Bank of Georgia for a certain period and/or under certain conditions;

e) by way of written instruction, request a significant system operator or a payment service significant provider to perform a certain action or refrain from performing that action.

Article 43 - Storage and confidentiality of the information

1. No one may make confidential information accessible to anyone, or disclose, disseminate, or use the information for personal purposes. Such information may be provided solely to the National Bank of Georgia, within its competence.

2. Information on user funds, electronic money, and on transactions executed (including attempted transactions) may be provided to the user and to its duly authorised representative; also, in the cases specified in the legislation of Georgia, to the Financial Monitoring Service of Georgia and to persons authorised to execute acts subject to enforcement under the Law of Georgia on Enforcement Proceedings, in the process of their enforcement. This information may be provided to other persons solely based on a court decision.

3. Information related to a payment transaction may be provided to the relevant payment system, system operator, payee's provider and payee. The requirements of the second paragraph of this article shall apply to the above persons.

4. The information specified in the transfer order and submitted to a system operator as a result of the payment system operation may be provided only to a relevant participant of a system, or to its duly authorised representative, and as provided for by the legislation of Georgia, to persons authorised to execute acts subject to enforcement under the Law of Georgia on Enforcement Proceedings, in the process of their enforcement.

5. Judicial, investigative, and tax authorities may not provide the information specified in the second paragraph of this article to other persons and bodies, including mass media, or use this information in public speaking, until the relevant decision has been adopted by a court.

6. A system operator and a payment service provider shall be obliged to develop and implement measures aimed at protecting the confidentiality of the information.

7. A system operator and a payment service provider shall be obliged to store appropriate records and documents according to the legislation of Georgia. A system operator and a payment service provider shall be obliged to store information on participants, users, and their transactions in electronic form for at least 15 years.

Article 44 - Information to be submitted by a significant system operator and a payment service significant provider

1. Within 30 days after the issuance of an individual administrative legal act of the National Bank of Georgia under which a system operator and a payment service provider are considered as significant, a significant system operator and a payment service significant provider shall be obliged to submit to the National Bank of Georgia:

a) original copies or notarised, apostilled or legalised copies of founding documents;

b) information on senior management, on direct and beneficial owners of a significant interest;

c) documents evidencing the amount of capital;

d) other additional information provided for in the rules of the National Bank of Georgia.

2. The capital of a significant system operator and of a payment service significant provider shall not at any time during their business activity be less than the minimum capital requirements (according to the types of capital) established and calculated by the National Bank of Georgia.

3. The National Bank of Georgia may request a significant system operator and a payment service significant provider, as well as participants of a significant system to open settlement accounts at the National Bank of Georgia.

4. A significant system operator and a payment service significant provider may carry out only those business activities that are provided for in this Law.

Article 45 - Inspection

1. The National Bank of Georgia may carry out on-site and/or off-site inspection of the compliance of the business activity of a significant system operator and a payment service significant provider with the requirements of the legislation of Georgia and/or with those established by the National Bank of Georgia. For this purpose, the National Bank of Georgia may, within its competence, request and receive records management documents, accounting documents, records and any other information.

2. The National Bank of Georgia may carry out on-site and/or off-site inspection of the compliance by a significant system participant with the rules of accessing and participating in the system and with the requirements of the legislation of Georgia.

Article 46 - Sanctions

1. The National Bank of Georgia may apply the sanctions provided for in the second paragraph of this article to a system operator and a payment service provider, if a system operator and a payment service provider:

- a) have breached any of the provisions of this Law, or any norm, instruction, provision, rule, resolution, or written instruction of the National Bank of Georgia;
- b) have provided incorrect or inaccurate information;
- c) have breached the requirements of the Law of Georgia on Facilitating the Prevention of Money Laundering.

2. Upon detecting the breach specified in the first paragraph of this article, the National Bank of Georgia may apply the following sanctions to an offender in the order given below; the order need not be observed depending on the gravity of the breach:

- a) send a written warning and/or request to cease and to prevent further breaches;
- b) impose a pecuniary fine in the amount and according to the procedure established by the National Bank of Georgia;
- c) revoke the registration.

3. The amount of the fine imposed according to this Article shall be deposited to the State Budget of Georgia.

Article 47 - Register of system operators and payment service providers

The National Bank of Georgia shall maintain a register of system operators and payment service providers and publish it on its official website.

Article 48 - Obligations of system operators and payment service providers

System operators and payment service providers shall be obliged to notify the National Bank of Georgia, and the operators of the systems in which they are participants on the reorganisation, liquidation, bankruptcy proceedings, suspension of activities and on other circumstances that may affect the operation of the system or the provision of payment services by system operators and payment service providers.

Article 49 - Exception from the scope of this Chapter

This chapter shall not apply to commercial banks and microfinance organizations operating in Georgia.

Article 50 - General principles

In absence of a norm regulating a payment system and payment services, an operator or a provider shall act according to international norms and the best international practices.

Chapter VIII - Transitional and Final Provisions

Article 51 - Transitional provision

Legal persons that had been performing business activities provided for in this Law before this Law entered into force must be registered within three months after this Law enters into force, according to the procedure established by this Law and by the National Bank of Georgia.

Article 52 - Entry into force

This Law shall enter into force as from 1 July 2012.

President of Georgia

M. Saakashvili

Tbilisi

25 May 2012

No 6304-Is

